Lions host first new format Walleye Classic

WEIGHING IN FOR THE WIN- Tournament chair George Hahn (left) congratulates Kevin Schafer and Chris Kindraka, the 2019 winners of the Elk Point and District Lions Moose Lake Walleye Classic, while Lion Jason Boorse presents them with the $9,960 cheque for their 69.73-pound catch. Elk Point and District Lions Moose Lake Walleye Classic had a new format this year, but neither the trade of weigh boats for the new format of measurements and digital photos nor the weekend's wet and windy weather could keep over 70 teams of dedicated fishing enthusiasts from hauling in some excellent catches this past weekend.

There's an old theory that walleye bite best when the wind is blowing and water is rough, and that definitely appeared to be true this weekend. Overall winners Kevin Schafer and Chris Kindraka pulled in 69.73 pounds in the two days, including both the biggest and third biggest fish on Saturday, measuring 72 and 70 cm, which helped them place second overall for the day, with a total weight of 35.98 pounds, added to their fourth place total on Friday of 33.75 pounds, their wins adding up to $12,184 in prize money, not counting their Calcutta winnings.

Two teams tied for the biggest fish on Friday, both with 69 cm, with Ben Hirsekorn and Angela Johnson going on to win the Top Mixed team with a weight of 61.76 pounds for total winnings of $1,365, and Blaine Hansen and Terry Mandziuk going on to pull in a third place catch of 33.37 pounds on Saturday and place third overall, netting $6,175. Canada Day forecast: all-day fun, then fireworks!

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point's Canada Day Committee finalized all the details, down to the time for decorating their float, at last week's meeting, and are confident that they have everything in place for a July 1 packed with fun for all ages.

Recreation coordinator Cristin Tchir, reported that sponsorship donations continue to come in to fund the event, with two substantial additions added just before the meeting.

In addition to sponsorship a long lineup of local groups are involved in the event, running events, hosting fundraisers or just helping out.

The day starts out with the annual pancake breakfast served up by the Friends of Elk Point Municipal Library from 8 to 10 a.m., allowing time for those entering the parade to get to the Railway Ave. staging area before judging by Elk Point Community Lions and other volunteers gets underway at 10:15 a.m. The Elk Point and District Lions are in charge of lining up the entries, and this year's parade categories are Adult Clubs and Organizations, Kids' Clubs and Organizations, Industrial and Small Business. Other entrants, such as those with horses or cars, are welcome to be part of the parade, but will not compete for ribbons this year. Children with decorated bicycles are asked to gather at the EcoCentre.

The parade heads up Main Street at 11 a.m., which means if you're not in the parade, you should have time to stop by Lakeland Realty for a complimentary ice cream cone first, or after the parade goes by your vantage point. The route is the same as in previous years, and Mayor Lorne Young is confident that 52 Ave., which is currently blocked off for water main replacement on Ravine Drive, will be open by July 1.

Following the parade, head up to the A. G. Ross Arena area, where food vendors, the arena concession and the beer garden tent will be open at noon, and family activities and games will get underway, ranging from a penny carnival and face painting to bouncy houses, a play zone for the little ones and free cookies courtesy of Subway in the arena, the always popular dunk tank, and new attractions including Gladiator Joust, Double Bungee Run and High Strike.

Raising of the Canada flag and welcome messages from Mayor Young and a County of St. Paul representative will start off the afternoon stage show at noon as well, followed by entertainment by the very talented Fakeley Sisters, St. Paul's Silhouette Dancers and Edmonton singer and songwriter Ben Sures, who is part of the Home Roots concert tour lineup.

Another of this year's new attractions is scheduled for 2:15 p.m., when the Elk Point Firefighters invite the public into the outdoor rink area for a Car Smash, followed by a victim extrication demonstration. Also at 2:15, Elk Point Further Education will be handing out cupcakes sponsored by Elk Point Royal Purple Lodge in the arena.

A favorite attraction in the early years of Canada Day celebrations is back this year, the Pie Eating Contest, with the first 10 to enter in each of three age categories coming up to the Canada Day stage to see how fast they can chow down on pies sponsored by Golden Loaf Bakery.

More fun for the younger set is in store from 5 to 10 p.m. as they enjoy Laser Tag in the arena. Adults who are country music fans will head down to the Seniors' Recreation Centre for their annual Canada Day Jamboree, and families will gather back up at the arena grounds at about 9 p.m. for the outdoor movie, including free popcorn, courtesy of the Elk Point and County of St. Paul FCSS, with fireworks to follow, sponsored by the Town, County and ISL Engineering.

Health Care Centre: full staff for summer

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Facility supervisor Kristen Peleshok is leaving Elk Point Health Care Centre this week, but is leaving it in good hands, she told the Elk Point and District Interagency Health and Wellness Committee last week, adding that her replacement would start work on June 24. "I promise I will leave you with someone good, but I can't tell you who she is yet."

Peleshok is "returning to Manitoba, where I'll be managing a bigger hospital in a smaller town, and I'll be living near my parents."

The Health Care Centre has no staff vacancies, and a locum RN on staff until mid-July to cover while permanent staff takes their holidays, Peleshok said. Dr. Ashoulu, who arrived in May, is now working in the emergency department and clinic, and is "so nice, and an excellent doctor."

Other IHWC members also had good comments regarding Dr. Ashoulu, Loris Kozina of Heritage Lodge saying she is "happy to have a new physician and that she is a female doctor," while committee chair Margaret Modin added, "It's good that she's arrived, the reports coming in are good." Doctor locums are still being used to allow all three doctors to have some time off.

Kozina reported that Heritage Lodge "will be full as of July 1," while the self-contained units are full and there is one vacant low-income house available. Paving of the parking lots at both Heritage Lodge and Fort George Manor was underway, causing some disruption for residents.

Mayor Lorne Young noted that two paving companies are involved, one of them, Blue Sky Coatings, currently setting up a new shop in Elk Point. Town staff is hard at work with spring and summer projects, and coped with a water line break on Monday, completing their work on Tuesday and then dealing with a sewer backup. "It's a busy time." Water line replacement is underway on Ravine Drive and should be completed by Canada Day, so the parade will be able to follow its customary route. "The contractor wants to be out by Canada Day."

The mayor said the new Economic Development Committee is "looking at 10 different things and trying to make progress," and that the official opening of the airport renovations is slated for July 25.

County of St. Paul Coun. Kevin Wirsta said the county crews are "going flat out, we have a lot on the go. A lot of gravel is being laid." The public works superintendent quit and "we put out an ad, 20 people applied and have been narrowed down to four good candidates."

Levina Ewasiuk

reported that the Seniors Centre activities are breaking for the summer months, and will be holding a jamboree on the evening of Canada Day.

The mayor thanked Ewasiuk for her quick thinking after the April IHWC meeting, when she "recruited us drivers for Meals on Wheels" at another meeting later in the day. "It's important to keep up the support for those seniors still in their own homes."

Superintendent encourages graduates to 'take care of yourself'

GLEN BRODZIAK
Superintendent with SPERD

On behalf of St. Paul Education I am honoured to pass along a grad message to our esteemed Grade 12 students from across the school division.

Grads, I know these are busy, interesting times for you. Late night studying, writing that last exam, walking up on that grad stage, clearing out your locker, and that final walk through the school hallway. It is both a time to reflect and a time to wonder what lies ahead.

Your next step is to get to the 'stuff' of your future... whatever that entails.

My only advice to you graduands would be to always make your own self-care a priority. Regardless of age or occupation, positive mental health matters for every one of us. There can be a stigma attached to the words mental health, but in reality, similar to all of us having physical health, everyone one of us has mental health. And our own mental health needs its proper attention... our well-being needs to count.

Mental health refers to our overall psychological well-being. It encompasses the way we feel about ourselves, the quality of our relationships, and our ability to manage our feelings and deal with life's inevitable curveballs. The term mental health can be very broad and in simple terms it is like brain health. Our brain controls how we think, feel, and act. It determines how we handle stress, relate to others, and make choices in life. This mental health (brain health) is important at every stage of life, from childhood and adolescence through adulthood.

As humans, to varying degrees and for different reasons, we will all experience highs and lows in our lifetime. Psychologists tell us the key is to truly understand our own mental health, and during the low times pinpoint the exact origin of that pain. And of course this is easier said than done because none of us like feeling down and if we knew how to fix it of course we would. It is too easy to say during stressful, tough times just get some exercise, fresh air, more rest, eat healthier... and the list goes on. While all these help, I truly do believe many of these experts when they say the 'best' mental health is to stay connected. Every one of us needs support systems and no one should do this world alone. These same psychologists tell us we must make social connections a priority, especially face to face...yes that means ditch our phones/social media more. We all need the company of others to feel and function to our full capacity.

In closing, as educators, as parents and community partners, the more we can work together collaboratively to provide positive mental health support to one another the stronger our communities become. My message is simple... grads please make your own mental health a priority. Lean on one another and don't ever be afraid to ask for help. Take care of yourself, your loved ones, and please also take notice of people needing support.

Best of luck in your future endeavors and I wish you nothing but health and happiness.

Wet weekend plagues Lakeland League finals

When it rains it pours! Crazy weather is all I can say!! The rain wouldn't come at all in the month of May and now we cannot seem to shut off the tap.

We do need the rain of course, but it made for some juggling of games this past weekend during the Lakeland and coaches.

Although I never received any information I do know the Bantam girls Pumas won a Silver medal as well up in Pierceland on the weekend.

BASSETT

Review Sports

They didn't play each other all year, but our two Mosquitoes teams ending up playing against each other in the pouring rain for the Bronze Medal game in Bonnyville Sunday afternoon, Elk Point # 1 coached by Dennell Anderson winning a nail biter 13 to 12 over the Elk Point # 2 team coached by Jackie Penz. Both of these teams have some very promising talented ball players and its great to see we have enough for two teams and coaches that are working hard to develop their skills.

The Rookies tournament in Cold Lake was cancelled on Saturday due to the rain.

The Squirt girls travelled all the way to Lac La Biche to play and the diamonds were under water. If it makes you feel any better, Lac La Biche travelled all the way here to Elk Point on Saturday for two games. The pouring rain came before they could play and they turned around and went back home without playing as well.

Saving the best for last, grandson Phoenix Colborne playing bantam for the Bonnyville Braves had not won a game all year until this past weekend, they won the very first game of the year and then another this past weekend in Elizabeth Settlement, winning the Bronze Medal.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "You owe it to yourself to be the best you can possibly be - in baseball and in life." - Pete Rose

League finals. Many games at all of the sites were either shortened or didn't happen at all. But the ones that did happen sure were exciting, including our Pee wee boys, the Sox. Our Pee wee Boys hosted the Pee wee finals and ended up playing in the Gold Medal game against the Bonnyville Braves. Some mighty fine pitching by both sides in the final game. The Sox using Sam 'Spiderman' Rogal for the first four and a half innings, then 'Kid Kade' Fontaine coming in in relief. The Sox down by only a two runs for most of the game, then late in the game a few more Braves crossed the plate, but the Sox would not go down without a bit of a rally in the bottom of the seventh. Down by five runs, the Sox with two runners on base at the time and none out. 'Cyclone Cole' Pierce at the plate hit a hard grounder to second but not enough to get through the gap, He was thrown out at first but his hit scored a run. Then the speedy Top Gunner' Crawford who was attempting to steal home on the same hit, was tagged out at the plate, making it two out. The 'Mighty Casey' Warawa at the plate just missed putting one out of the park to keep the team alive, the ball slicing over the fence foul. The next pitch was a swing and a miss, the Mighty Casey had struck out and the ball game was over and it was a silver medal for the Pee wee Sox. Great job, boys

Fraser Report results give F.G. Miller impressive grade

JANICE HUSER
Review Contributor

Results from the Fraser Institute's annual report card have placed F. G. Miller High School out of Elk Point as the top performing school within the St. Paul area.

F. G. Miller received a grade of 7.6/10 and sits in 39th place out of 217 schools in the province that were included in the report.

"This is wonderful news and shows a school that is doing a great job on provincial exams. It takes dedicated parents, students, and staff committed to positive results," said St. Paul Education Regional Division board chair Heather Starosielski, when asked about the report card.

Not all schools in the area are included in the report card, since a school requires a minimum number of high school or elementary aged students to be included, and uses results from province-wide testing.

On the high school side, the report card ranked a total of 262 public, independent, Catholic and charter schools based on nine academic indicators generated from Grade 12 province-wide testing, grade-to-grade transition and graduation rates, according to the Fraser Institute.

St. Paul Regional High School was included in the report, and found itself also sitting above average with a grade of 6.3/10 and in 108th place out of the 262 schools included.

Ashmont Secondary School also found itself on the list, receiving a grade of 1.5 and sitting in 257th place.

On the elementary school side, the report ranks 852 public, Catholic, independent and charter schools based on eight academic indicators derived from province-wide test results.

Glendon School from Northern Lights Public Schools (NLPS) was sitting in the top third of schools included, with a grade of 7.0/10, and ranked 240th out of 852 elementary schools.

Elk Point students also once again performed well on the elementary side, with Elk Point Elementary receiving a grade of 6.1, and ranked 504th out of 852 schools.

Two Hills School and Glen Avon School (both school from within St. Paul Education Regional Division) were next for local schools, with Two Hills getting a grade of 5.9 and Glen Avon receiving a grade of 5.8.

Also included in the report card was Ecole du Sommet, from within the Conseil Scolaire Centre-Est francophone division, receiving a grade of 5.0; and Vilna School, from within Aspen View Public School Division, receiving a grade of 2.1.

Ashmont Elementary sat near the bottom of the list with a grade of 1.5, and ranked 836/852.

When asked about the report card results, Starosielski noted that "St. Paul Education utilizes a variety of sources to track our division schools and to assess improvement. Sources such as our local division satisfaction survey, the Alberta Education accountability survey, Eight Leaves, and even the Fraser Report Card are vital for providing an overall picture of how a school is doing"

But, she noted it was important to add "that the Fraser report card only shows a snapshot in time and doesn't reflect the entire school year, nor student growth. The Fraser Report Card excluded some schools this year such as Mallaig, Mynam, and Two Hills (high school) where there wasn't sufficient data generated due to smaller classes. This is one reason why we need to look at a variety of evidence to truly assess all aspects of a school."

St. Paul Elementary is also not included in the rankings since it only goes up to Grade 5, and Racette Junior High School is not included in the report since it is neither an elementary nor high school.
